A Medley of Interesting News Paragraphs.

The Sharpe-Hill Brand—Appeals in the Hall-Roll Tax Suit Before the U. S. Supreme Court—Emancipation Celebration—Walking Match.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—William M. Neilson this morning presented an affidavit in Judge Toohy's Court, requesting the Court to instruct the Grand Jury in a certain manner. The affidavit alleges that, following a recess, the grand jury had further instructed said Grand Jury, that it was informed and believed that Wm. Sharon, who is the accused in regard to the charges to which I refer, has, while the investigation is pending, held sundry interviews with members of said Grand Jury, calculated to affect the result, and on information of Chas. D. Cushman, I name Grand Juror John C. Merrill as one of the jurors who is acting improperly as aforementioned, and on information of said Cushman, I allege that said Merrill openly admitted, while the accusations in question were pending, but before evidence had been taken, that he, the said Merrill, had been shown by the said Sherman evidence that had convinced him in regard to the question that had confronted him in regard to the Grand Jury. Furthermore, the question now being investigated before the Grand Jury, in which said Mrs. S. A. Sherman, and all other persons involved in the present moment pending on an issue made up in one of the departments of the court of which you are a member of the judicial, will be set at rest in the very near date at which we can have it called upon. Being the most honorable Court in the jurisdiction of your honorable Court, I respectfully submit that the said Court ought not to practically supersede one of its departments that has acquired prior jurisdiction in the case, and I trust you will do every thing that you will so instruct the present Grand Jury. Respectfully submitted.

(Signed) WILLIAM M. NEILSON.

A BIG SPLICE.

The Irish Giant and the German Giants Married.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 20.—Patrick William O'Donnell, the Irish giant, and Christina D. Dermot, the German giantess, were married in this city to-day. The ceremony was performed in German at the Evangelical church, and was witnessed by a numerous concourse of people, including the Mayor and Council of Pittsburgh. The Mayor of Allegheny, John McCullough, the sheriff, and the state chancery were also present. Outside of the church the crowd gathered in such numbers as to fill every available space, and the efforts of a large force of police, O'Brien were a full dress suit, and a medal presented to him by the Loyal League ornate diamond ring. The bride wore, an orange blossom wreath and a veil that covered a superb dress of white satin. The wedding rings were of gold, and a band of emeralds. The service she held in her hand a small portion of the mace. After the service the bridal party drove at once to the Museum and held public reception. The wedding cake in the largest over measure, was six feet in circumference and three feet in thickness. A giant load of bread, five feet long, will do justice to the appetite of the marriage of giants in America, and the second in the world. The combined height of the two pairs is fifteen feet, the weight, and the bride was but five hundred and forty-nine pounds. The wedding ring weighed seventeen pennyweights and was five inches in circumference.

The Daily Times.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 20, 1888.

The slaughter of the colored men at Danville, Va., has been investigated by Mr. Frank A. Burr, of the Philadelphia Press, who finds it to have been far worse than reported. There was no thought of disturbance on the part of the colored men. During Saturday afternoon, when the streets were also full of colored people, who, having received their week's pay, are doing their marketing, a negro and a white man got into an altercation, the white man being the aggressor. Thereupon a mob of angry whites, heated with politics and probably with rum, began an indiscriminate firing upon the colored people in the streets. The only white men harmed were hit by the stray shots fired by their own friends. Seven negroes were reported killed and twenty wounded, but Mr. Burr says this does not represent one-half the harvest of death. But the lesson was effectual in keeping the colored voters from the polls and a great Democratic victory was scored. Senator Mahone, in an address to the people of the State, portions of which we reprint to-day, speaks very strongly upon this brutal and needless slaughter of innocent colored men.

THE ATTORNEY GENERAL of Illinois has declared the National Police Gazette, the New York Illustrated News and the Illustrated Police News to be obscene publications, and the sellers of them subject to prosecution under the law. These obnoxious publications find a wide circulation all over the country. Los Angeles, we suspect, takes her full proportion of the literary poison which they distill into the minds of the young. Why should they not be suppressed in California as well as in Illinois? Is our welfare of morals lower, or the welfare of our youth less precious to their parents and the State than in the West, the East, or any other part of the Union? Trace the personal career of the criminals in our jails and penitentiaries, and you will find that a large proportion of them were fed in their youth on the sort of mental food served up weekly by the class of newspapers justly denounced as obscene by the Attorney-General of Illinois.

THE RECORD-UNION is gratified to note that the San Francisco press has at last awakened to the disregard of public opinion on the part of the health authorities of that city. "The health officials," says that paper, "seem determined to force their opinions, that there is no danger from yellow fever, upon the people, when scientific investigation, experience and reason all give the lie to their theorizing about the immunity of this climate from the plague." The Record-Union is right. It is both stupid and criminal for our people to keep continually harping on the theory that the California climate is a proof against the advent of the saffron-hued invader, while sitting supinely down in fancied security, refusing to take measures to ward him off until it is too late. The g. c. of C. must not be counted on for everything. Clean up and keep clean is the watchword for the coast cities and towns another year.

THERE is an ante-bellum, "good old slavery days" flavor about the following expressions from the Richmond State, which many of our readers will very readily recognize, and which reveal the true inwardness of the late Virginia campaign:

White supremacy or negro supremacy, which?

Remember that the dangers of an abominable social equality stare us in the face.

Shall we have negro trustees to whom our brightest must apply for permission to teach?

Now that the liberties of our race are invaded, and all our born rights threatened, shall we not, too, cry: "Blood is thicker than water" and range ourselves shoulder to shoulder in the same great cause—the cause of all white Virginians?

The Virginians appear to have been considerably skeered.

THE REPUBLICAN press, with persistent unanimity, is seeking to identify the cause of the workmen with all that is vicious and depraved in politics. The workmen can never be freed under the Republican rule.—[San Francisco Examiner.]

In view of the fact that it is to the Republican party, more than to any other, that the workman owes the freedom and prosperity which he enjoys in the United States, in greater measure than his class enjoy in any other country on the footstool, the above statement of the Examiner borders on the ragged edge of bare-faced fabrication.

The signs of the times point to Tilden. The Democracy can only win with the old ticket.—[Ventura Signal.]

Then its case is a hopeless one, for the old ticket is a defunct quantity in the politics of this great and glorious country.

AN Ohio Democratic politician—Judge McKemy, of Hamilton—was asked by "Gath": "Do you anticipate a Democratic victory next time?" McKemy replied, "No. We have a great many times had the prospects in our favor and have thrown them away on the very verge of success by our want of prudence." Here is a Democrat who appears to have an exceptionally frank way of working off the congenital truth.

Our steamed to emp., the Evening Express, insists that it was not guilty of perpetrating a Bubibyism when it gave an opinion that hard times, produced by Democratic blundering, would help that party in 1884. It claims that a "slip of the tongue" did the business. This is a convenient and frank way of working off the congenital truth.

The population of Nevada is now less than 60,000. Los Angeles county will have to gain but 30,000 in the next seven years [to equal it.] We propose to beat that calculation here in Santa Clara County. And don't forget it.—[San José Times.]

YES! Well, go on in your wild career. But pardon us for correcting your figures slightly. Los Angeles county has to do no more than 10,000 population to gain in order to make her population equal Nevada's 60,000.

THE EXAMINER'S paragraph dead is on deck again. Here is the proof of it: "People who reside in top rooms of tall houses are usually stuck up." Mate, order up your biggest belaying pin and go to work on him.

THE TOLEDO COMMERCIAL TELEGRAM cordially agrees with the Cincinnati Commercial Gazette in one thing—"Mr. Arthur is not indispensable." This is a blessed truth.

MEN AND WOMEN.

It takes Wilkie six months to write a story. He grinds out nine pages a day and then stops.

SENATOR ANTHONY is between two fires. One doctor is treating him for heart trouble and another for bright's disease.

SECRETARY CHANDLER denies the report that he is worth $1,000,000, but confesses to a cool $100,000 in addition to his income.

A. L. GREELEY, formerly District Attorney of Esmeralda county, Nevada, was taken to the insane asylum last Monday.

A western journal warns the Rev. Geo. C. MILH, who is now on a tour, that it may be dangerous to rouse the cowboys so suddenly with his caricature of Hamlet.

EDWARD MCCLINTOCK, who owned three-fourths of the present site of Denver, a few years ago, disposed of it for a pair of French boots, a pound of tobacco and a burro.

POLITICAL NOTES.

It looks as if Diana would go sooner than the Republicans.

PENNSYLVANIA serves notice that she will be well up to the front of the Republican column in 1884.

The result in New York means that Samuel J. Tilden will never again have a chance to be President.

The prohibition candidate for governor in Massachusetts received 1,353 votes out of a total of 312,000.

HENRY B. PAYNE, of Ohio, was nearly $10,000,000, and his candidacy for the United States Senate is the finest windfall the Ohio Democrats have had in many a long day.

VIRGINIA DEMOCRATS are enjoying a refreshing season of the pleasure of anticipation. The legislature has a good many offices in its gift, and there will be course of a complete sweep of the Mahonians.

MAHONIAN AND HIS PARTY.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Senator Mahone of Virginia publishes an address to the Readjuster party in Virginia, in which he says: "The status of our debt has been disturbed, largely by the Readjuster and corruption and simplicity, that the principal of our bonded indebtedness had been made to seem $13,000,000 when it was really $10,000,000, as shown on the public records, exclusive of the one-third owned by the State of West Virginia. The right to vote had been gradually curtailed by the whipping and flogging of the slaves, and the laws passed in violation of the conditions to which the State solemnly pledged herself when readmitted to representation in Congress, until freedom was gained in Virginia."

The school had been educated from their proper use in like violation of the fundamental conditions of the re-admission; the Bourbons had kept the schools in the hands of the Readjusters, narrow adherents to detested and discarded notions as to State sovereignty and national obligations, most injurious to their interests, begiting distrust, excluding capital and immigration, and retarding economic development.

THE WHIPPING AND FLOGGING OF THESE WRONGS, the correction of these evils, and the resistance to the old Bourbon spirit of caste, intolerance and proscription which belonged to a former and the greater part of the South, which had brought together the great majority of our people, without regard to race or previous condition of party servitude.

OUR ENEMIES HATED AND BITILY OPPOSED THE READJUSTERS.

MAHONIAN then calls attention to the economy practiced under the Readjuster government, giving facts and figures to show the results. He says since the acquisition of the Readjuster control of the railroads, the principal has become the second cotton port in the country, and its exports have increased 30 per cent; a city which is springing up in a rapid and general way, in population from 5000 to 50,000, our taxable values on personal property have increased over 18 per cent, our live stock over 9 per cent; capital has sought investment in the South, and been obtained at low interest, and labor has been aroused to greater activity than ever before. Our federal relatives have never been more friendly than they now are, and the time is near when we will be counted on for everything. Clean up and keep clean is the watchword for the coast cities and towns another year.

BIG FLOCK.

An Extensive Sheep Range on Santa Rosa Island.

How Eighty Thousand Sheep are Readily and Thoroughly Washed Twice a Year—A Herd of Trainee Goats.

The following descriptive article, from the San Francisco Call of Monday last, is interesting, though inaccurate and exaggerated in several particulars. For instance, the surveyed area of Santa Rosa Island is about 46,000 acres, instead of 74,000, as given, and that of Santa Cruz Island is about 32,000 acres, instead of 64,000 acres, as given. It is safe to say that Santa Rosa will yield for $600,000, nor rented for $140,000 a year. Bartering these conspicuous inaccuracies, the other details given appear to be generally correct.—ED. TIMES.]

The little schooner Santa Rosa, registering thirty-one tons, arrived in port on November 10th, having been away for two months. She is in command of Captain H. Higgins, and plies between Santa Rosa Island and the mainland, and comes up to this city twice a year, to secure provisions, clothing, lumber, etc., for use on the island, also bringing over to the mainland, a large number of sheep. A. More, who owns the island and the 80,000 sheep that exist upon it. The island is about thirty miles south of Santa Barbara, and is twenty-four miles in length and sixteen in breadth, and contains a great variety of land, which are admirably adapted to sheep raising. Last June More clipped 104 sacks of wool from these sheep, each sack containing an average of 40 pounds of wool, making a total of 4,160 pounds. These, which he sold at $1.12, $1.20 per pound, or a clear profit of over $800.00. This is said to be a low profit, so it is evident that sheep raising there, when it is taken into consideration that shearing takes place twice a year, that a profit is made of 40 percent. The island is very suitable. The island is bounded in four quarters by fences running clear across at right angles, and the sheep have not to be herded like those ranging about the foothills.

FOUR MEN ARE EMPLOYED

regularly the year around to keep the sheep in order and to look after the sheep, and during shearing time 40 or more men are employed. They secure 40 or 50 days' work, and the average number of sheep sheared a day is about 90, for which five cents a clip is paid, thus $4.50 a day being made. This is a good profit, or something over $800.00 for the season, above $100.00 for 90 days out of the year. Although the shearing of 90 sheep a day is the average, a great many will go as high as 100, and one man has been known to shear 125. Of course every man wants to do his best, as he is bound to have frequent contact with the animals are severely cut by the shears. If the wound is serious, the sheep immediately has its throat cut, and is turned into mutton and disposed of to the butchers, and the shear, if in the opinion of the shearer, is not serious, the wound is summarily discharged. In the shearing of these 80,000 sheep a hundred or more are injured to such an extent as to necessitate their being killed, but the wool and meat are of considerable value.

Although no herding is necessary, about two hundred or more trained goats are kept on the island continually, which to all intents and purposes take the place of the shepherd dogs so necessary in mountainous districts where the sheep are raised. These goats are animals which have moved from one quarter of the island to another as the man in charge takes up with him several of the goats, except in the case of the goat, exclaims in Spanish, "cheva" (meaning sheep). The goat through its training follows the man, and when the goat immediately runs to the band and the sheep accept it as their leader, following wherever it goes. The goat in turn to whatever point he wishes to take the band. To prevent the sheep from getting away, the goat is taught to give them a washing twice a year. More having so many on hand, found necessary to invent some way to accomplish this whereby not nearly so much expense would be incurred and time wasted. After experimenting for a while, he decided to dig eight feet in depth, a little over two feet in width, and a few feet long. In this he puts 600 gallons of water, 200 pounds of sulphur, 100 pounds of lime, and six pounds of soda, all of which is heated to 130 degrees. The goats and the sheep are compelled to swim through to the further end, thus securing a bath and taking their medicine at one and the same time.

The owner of the island and sheep, A. More, a few years ago, purchased the property from the widow of his deceased brother, Henry, for $600,000. Owing to ill health he has rented it to his brother, Lawrence, for $140,000 a year, and soon starts for Boston, where he will settle down for the remainder of his life. He has an interest in the Santa Cruz Island ranch, which is about twenty-five miles southeast of Santa Barbara. This island contains about 64,000 acres, and is worth 25,000 sheep.

ON CATALINA ISLAND, sixty miles east of Santa Barbara, are 15,000 sheep, and on Clemente Island, a small island off the coast of Santa Barbara, are 2,000 sheep. Forty miles west of the same city, is San Miguel, on which are 2,000 sheep. Each one of these ranches has a sailing vessel to carry freight, etc., to and fro between the islands and the mainland, and they are kept by the greater number of men.

Captain Higgins tells an amusing story at the expense of one of the former mates of the steamer Oribe. That gentleman, for some time waited a billy goat that had been raised as a pet, and was very fond of him. More, and with to her work it for a long time, but finally the billy ate up its master's coat containing papers valued at $500. More, becoming incensed, told Higgins to get rid of the animal, and, upon the next trip of the Oribe, he got a passage with his new own mate, the man. The mate went to his home, in this city, bought a set of harness and a small wagon, and made the outfit a present to his little girl. One night, going home, he learned that the goat had eaten up his coat, worth $100 in greenbacks, and that set him in a fever. He had hitched to the wagon, so that his little girl might have a ride. The billy ran away and threw the child out of the wagon, nearly breaking her neck, demolished the vehicle in its flight, and was shot dead by the goat that had been seen. Captain Higgins and the mate still speak, but for some reason their friendship is not quite as warm as in days of yore.
